BENEFITS OF STARTING A CIVILITY INITIATIVE IN YOUR SCHOOL:

- Studies suggest that one of the side-effects of civility training in schools is increased social awareness and social intelligence that builds social confidence in school-age children
- Increased: respect for others, civil communication, appreciation for differences, and social engagement, by students
- Greater accountability for the outcomes of actions; less bullying, less petty crime, greater appreciation for shared property and experience by all who are involved
- Opportunity to change the school culture by teaching core values related to civility including: Respect, Responsibility and Restraint
- Build support from parents and the community for integrating core values into children's homes and community experiences
- Increased social capital in the school and in the community.

The Cost for the Macaroni and Please™ Civility Initiative Toolkit is $750.00 CDN plus GST.
